HOW TO DO A GOOD JOB BETTER IN HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE: PRACTICAL SKILLS AND INDUCTION GUIDE FOR HEALTHCARE ASSISTANTS, SUPPORT WORKERS,CARERS PARENTS AND GUARDIANS

Bettercare Skills Ltd, United Kingdom, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 246 x 189 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This book has been written for those who work - or want to work - in care. It is also essential reading for people whose jobs are not exclusively focused around supporting individuals with learning disabilities, but who come into contact with such people as part of their work. For instance, in the sectors of health, education, housing, leisure, employment or libraries and for those working in probation.It is authoritatively backed by references to relevant works and professional bodies, adhering to National Occupational Standards (NOS), which are the benchmarks of performance. The information in this book is intended to help readers: develop knowledge, skills and understanding; understand what is required for competence in their work role and develop the ability to reflect on their work practice.It will also enable them to demonstrate that they are knowledgeable, competent and insightful and that they meet the standards set by the various organisations that have an interest in boosting the skills of the health and social care workforce.An induction workbook at the end of each chapter acts to engage readers in the subject and tests their understanding and knowledge in daily practice as a means for self-assessment. This is crucial in providing quality services and safe working practice in helping readers become accomplished social care workers.The aim of the book is to ensure consistency in statutory and mandatory practice, thus allowing staff to transfer from one service provider to another while guaranteeing skills are consistent across the social care workforce.
