Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Outline of an Agricultural Plan: For an Average Province This memorandum is meant solely for the use of officers who are called upon to put up schemes for growing more food or for inclusion in the plan of the post-war development of Agriculture. Under the term Agriculture are included not only Crop Production but also Horticulture, Animal Husbandry, Fisheries, Forestry and Cooperation. The general lines along which plans have to be prepared are now well recognised. Land has to be reclaimed and developed, water, manure and seed have to be provided, pests and diseases have to be guarded against, the production of milk and fish have to be increased, village fuel plantations have to be set up, multi-purpose cooperative societies organised and so on. But these general ideas have to be translated into concrete and specific schemes. Naturally the precise schemes to be taken up will vary from Province to Province and the type of work envisaged in each scheme will also have to vary with local conditions. But it is felt that some guidance on these points may be helpful. Accordingly, this memorandum gives in outline the nature of the scheme to be included under each major head of the plan. Some of these schemes may be unsuitable for some areas; some schemes may have to be dropped because they are beyond the resources of the Province concerned. But the outline may provide a list from which to pick and choose. In addition, type schemes for a large number of sub-heads are appended. They are designed mainly to give an indication as to the lines on which such schemes should be prepared and the...
